1. PROGRAM/DISCIPLINE MISSION/GOALS AND LINK TO STRATEGIC PLAN

1A. DESCRIBE PROGRESS TOWARD GOALS SET IN PREVIOUS REVIEW, ANNUAL BUDGET PRESENTATIONS, AND/OR STRATEGIC BUDGET PLANNING.

Arts and Letters consists of courses in art, music, literature, philosophy and foreign languages which form a supportive core for college degree programs. Arts and Letters courses promote student success by developing foundational skills in critical thinking, analysis, communication, and creativity. Arts and Letters courses also seek to promote student community with experience in group dynamics, civic awareness, leadership, and professionalism. The Department strives to smooth students' transitions to higher levels of study by building core skills and knowledge, and ensuring transferability.

The department has encountered issues that hindered goal attainment. There have been three different leads in the last three years, and the longest serving lead retired last spring. The newest lead is a new faculty member, and COVID has caused problems with training. Demand for arts and letters classes, other than online courses, has been variable and difficult to predict, and several courses needed to be deactivated. A new rotation of classes based on pre-COVID trends has been developed and is proving to be better aligned with student needs. Once the strategic plan is better aligned with actual goals, including access to robust and diverse offerings, modalities that meet student needs, and a revamped art lab, it will more accurately reflect the work that has been accomplished. In terms of actual goals, the only one that is in progress is the revamping of the art space.

Goal	Goal Title	Initiative	Explanation
1	Expand diversity offerings to enhance variety of Arts and Letters	Excellence	Well-rounded and self-sufficient individuals need to be able to collaborate effectively with people very different from themselves. Study of stories, traditions, philosophies, and arts from other cultures can help build empathy and find common ground. Arts and Letters courses should expand students' horizons in these areas.
Measurable Target
Students will have an opportunity to enroll in a wider variety of courses with content that enhances understanding of diversity
Action Items
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Develop and offer new courses: ENG 108 (World Literature), ENG 195 (Film as Art), ENG 216 (Literature for Children and Young Adults)</li> <li>Develop and offer existing course ENG 258 (African American Literature)</li> </ul>
Progress Notes
World Literature is on the back burner for now. ENG 195 was offered once, but the instructor is no longer at KCC. ENG 216 is well established. Dr. LaHaie continues to offer this as an online course. ENG 258 was to be offered in the summer, but Dr. LaHaie is no longer available to teach it. We will be looking for opportunities to offer it as soon as possible. Native American Literature did not have enough students to run, but we will no longer be offering two face to face literature classes in the same term. We continue to stress diversity in EVERY literature course, and we successfully offered Latin American Literature in Spring of 2020. (12/5/2019)
Successes
Latin American Literature has been developed and taught. Same for Children's Lit.

Klamath Community College Instructional Program Review:

Goal	Goal Title	Initiative	Explanation
2	Enhance variety of Arts & Letters Offerings	Access	We are continually striving to utilize the expertise of available faculty to target curricula that will be of interest to students, in order to offer the greatest possible balance (between offerings within Arts & Letters) and variety of offerings.
Measurable Target
Music Theory: we hope to attract not only KCC students, but also local high school students who wish to further their studies in music with course offerings that are no longer available in high schools. Art:
Action Items
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Offer Music Theory sequence</li> </ul>
Progress Notes
This course was developed, and a rudimentary Canvas shell now exists; however, we encountered difficulties finding a qualified instructor. We continue to struggle to find the right balance between robust offerings and the realistic number of courses we can offer. Recently, the number of arts and letters offerings in the catalog was significantly reduced; therefore, we need to reevaluate this goal to determine whether a smaller number of high-quality classes that meet the needs of our programs might be a better goal. We are currently working with KU to develop theatre classes as a dual credit option.
Successes
We have developed and taught several ENG courses.
Goal	Goal Title	Initiative	Explanation
3	Enhance quality of art facilities	Excellence	We want our facilities to enhance our students' learning and enjoyment of the learning process.
Measurable Target
Students will be more satisfied with art classes. They will be more comfortable, have more functional and more attractive working space, and cheaper and better art supplies.
Action Items
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Rehabilitate Art Lab space to improve appearance and functionality</li> <li>Work with administration to identify and develop space for 1. Ceramics 2. A more viable art lab 3. Public art display space</li> <li>Research best practices for management (storage and distribution) of art supplies</li> </ul>
Progress Notes
Improvements have been made to the art space in terms of the projector, and a smartboard was installed this summer. The art space still needs significant improvements as there is a high demand for studio art classes.
Successes
The kiln ventilation problem has been solved in consultation with facilities, and new ceramics instructor brought on board. Ceramics I was offered Spring Term, and Ceramics II is on tap for summer. However, the instructor was not a good fit, and we are choosing to focus on classes that are more immediately applicable to student success including Art for Teachers and 3-D Design.

1B. HAVE YOU MET YOUR PREVIOUSLY SET GOALS? IF NOT, HOW DO YOU PLAN TO MEET THEM?

☐ Yes

☒ No

Due to turnover, the Arts and Letters Department strategic plan needs significant overhaul to reflect the ways in which the department is working towards student success. We are increasingly scheduling online courses in order to meet student demand, and this strategy has resulted in better enrollment. We have been more strategic about scheduling classes, particularly in terms of modality, and we have made progress on revamping the art space. These more realistic goals have largely been met.

2. PROGRAM/DISCIPLINE DESCRIPTION AND OVERVIEW

2A. PROVIDE THE CATALOG DESCRIPTION OF THE PROGRAM.

Arts and Letters courses (Music, Philosophy, Foreign Language, Art, and Literature) do not constitute a program, but they share the following mission with other general education courses:

GENERAL EDUCATION MISSION

Collectively, general education courses promote student success in program courses by developing foundational skills in thinking, communication, computation, computer literacy, information literacy, and the scientific method. General education courses offer access to specialized instruction in subject areas not encompassed in other programs.

By preparing students for success in college degree programs, general education departments promote community and career success with training in civic awareness, leadership, communication skills, and professionalism. Furthermore, by combining skills development and interdisciplinary instruction for transfer to university degrees, the general education departments support students' future success.

2B. DESCRIBE HOW AND TO WHAT DEGREE THE PROGRAM DESCRIPTION REFLECTS THE PROGRAM'S OVERALL GOALS. IF IT DOES NOT, REVISE PROGRAM DESCRIPTION.

Not applicable to program review for general education courses; however, the above description accurately represents the goals of Arts and Letters courses.

2C. COMMUNITY LABOR MARKET NEED ANALYSIS AND PROJECTION

Not specifically applicable to program review for general education courses. Arts and Letters classes contribute to the Institutional Learning Outcome of Cultural Competence, an important employability skill.

2C.i. Has the demand for graduates changed in the past five years? If so how and to what degree?

☐ Yes

☒ No

Not applicable to program review for general education disciplines.

2C.II. WHAT IS THE EXPECTED MARKET DEMAND FOR THE FUTURE? HOW MIGHT THE LABOR MARKET NEED PROJECTION AFFECT THE PROGRAM? HOW MIGHT THE PROGRAM ADJUST TO THESE PROJECTIONS?

3A.I. WHAT PERCENT OF FACULTY ARE FULL-TIME? PART-TIME?

Technically Arts and Letters faculty are all part time for the program; however, one is the dean of instruction, one is the LRC director, two are current full-time instructors, and two are previous full-time instructors. Approximately 1/3 work at the college full-time at this moment.

3A.II. DESCRIBE FACULTY DEGREE ATTAINMENT. WHAT ARE THE MINIMUM DEGREE QUALIFICATIONS? WHAT PERCENT OF FACULTY EXCEED MINIMUM DEGREE QUALIFICATIONS?

Minimum degree requirements depend on the course being taught. Studio art classes can be taught by instructors with a bachelor's degree and experience in the subject. This is the case for both our art instructors. Other instructors are required to have a masters or higher. All faculty meet minimum requirements, and Dr. LaHaie, Dr. Wery, and Dr. Dwinnells exceed these requirements; together they are 25% of the total faculty in Arts and Letters.

3A.III. LIST THE SPECIFIC PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM FACULTY ATTENDED INCLUDING BOTH ON-SITE AND OFF-SITE TRAININGS; HOW DID THE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT IMPACT INSTRUCTION, DESIGN, AND DELIVERY?

- All faculty – regardless of status – are required to attend essential training such as Zoom instruction and In-Service. This ensures that every instructor is prepared to meet minimum standards and it promotes excellence in teaching. Additionally, faculty attend training in their specialty areas as necessary. For example, Dr. LaHaie attended the National Conference for Teachers of English (NCTE) to remain up to date on trends in children's literature, and Maggie Wood attended several Shakespeare conferences. Jo Cochran attended the Oregon Indian Education conference allowing her to stay updated on current trends in Indigenous education including decolonization in literature.

- Dr. LaHaie's attendance at the League for Innovation last March heavily influenced the development of the online best practice rubric. This document sets minimum standards for all classes, online classes, and aspirational standards. All faculty have been trained to use the rubric and are being held to the minimum standards.
- The Zoom training required of all faculty made the transition to online classes last spring and the move to distance classes for the upcoming winter term possible. Additionally, it provided a tool to enhance online only courses.
- CTL New Faculty Orientation ensures all new faculty understand how to use Canvas, and it gives them assistance with building robust course shells. Since most of the Arts and Letters faculty teach online, this is crucial to their success.
- Jean Knight's participation in the Great Northwest Teaching Seminar enriched her connections with other innovators in teaching in the region. This in turn, lead to enhancements in her ENG course offering.

3A.IV. ARE FACULTY COMPOSITION, QUALIFICATIONS, AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT MEETING INSTRUCTIONAL NEEDS? IF NOT, DESCRIBE ANY PLANS THAT WILL ADDRESS THIS.

☒ Yes

☐ No

☐ Somewhat

3B. DESCRIBE THE SPECIFIC FACILITIES, EQUIPMENT, AND MATERIALS USED BY THE PROGRAM.

3B.I. ARE FACILITIES MEETING INSTRUCTIONAL NEEDS? IF NOT, DESCRIBE ANY PLANS THAT WILL ADDRESS THIS.

☐ Yes

☐ No

☒ Somewhat

Most of the Arts and Letters courses are taught online; however, the studio art classes remain a popular and important part of our curriculum. The classroom was initially designed for science. Some modifications were made to accommodate the sculpting class, but others that were scheduled, such as the addition of a SmartBoard, were reprioritized due to COVID.

During budget presentations, we will once again be asking for a larger, flexible space that includes storage lockers for student supplies, art benches for drawing, sculpting tables, and a separate sculpting area.

3B.II. IS EQUIPMENT MEETING INSTRUCTIONAL NEEDS? IF NOT, DESCRIBE ANY PLANS THAT WILL ADDRESS THIS.

☐Yes

☐No

☒Somewhat

Again, most courses are online, but there are issues with the Art equipment because it was designed for science classes. The tables are too high, and the stools don't work well for art. We will ask for money in next year's budget, but it is an ongoing challenge.

3B.III. ARE INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS MEETING PROGRAM NEEDS? IF NOT, DESCRIBE ANY PLANS THAT WILL ADDRESS THIS.

☒Yes

☐No

☐Somewhat

3C. DESCRIBE THE INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT SERVICES THE PROGRAM USES.

Arts and Letters faculty and their students utilize the LRC's computer labs, holdings, placement testing, and tutoring services. Online faculty and students also rely on the Center for Teaching and Learning.

3C.I. REVIEW LRC HOLDINGS FOR RELEVANCY AND CURRENCY TO PROGRAM.

Consortium:

The library is also a member of the Orbis Cascade Alliance courier system, which provides students access to the holdings of more than 35 academic libraries in Oregon and Washington.

3C.II. REVIEW PROGRAM STUDENT USE OF TUTORING AND E-TUTORING.

Arts & Letters courses where students received tutoring are highlighted in yellow.

While the numbers of students accessing tutoring from term to term varies, it is most consistent for the disciplines of ART (Art History and Art for Teachers), Spanish 100 level language courses, Philosophy (Philosophy of Religion and Business Ethics). Even though the usage of tutoring is lower than in other disciplines it remains an important component to student success in these courses.

3C.III. REVIEW PROGRAM STUDENT USE OF TESTING SERVICES.

The KCC Testing Center provides the support necessary to administer all instructor exams for the Arts and Letters program. Testing Center personnel are nationally certified. Arts and Letters courses rarely use the testing center because most assignments in these courses are papers, and projects, and when courses include quizzes or exams, those assignments are posted in Canvas.

Below are the exams delivered by the KCC Testing Center. These do not include exams given in classrooms or remotely. We record aggregate totals and do not keep statistics on individual classes.

3D. DESCRIBE TO WHAT DEGREE THE PROGRAM USES THE COLLEGE'S LEARNING MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (CANVAS) FOR ALL METHODS OF DELIVERY (FACE-TO-FACE, ONLINE, SYNCHRONOUS, HYBRID).

All Arts and Letters courses (face to face, online, synchronous, and hybrid) utilize the college's LMS, Canvas. In fact, most courses are delivered through Canvas.

4A. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES ASSESSMENT

4A.I. COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES (CLO)

The CLO's for these courses are too numerous to individual list here, below is a link to the CCOG assessments for courses:

<https://info.klamathcc.edu/IR/ layouts/15/ReportServer/RSViewerPage.aspx?rv:RelativeReportUrl=/IR/ Reports/Assessment/CCOG%20Template.rdl>

4A.I.1 DESCRIBE EVIDENCE OF STUDENT PROFICIENCY IN CLOS. IF THERE IS NO EVIDENCE, DESCRIBE PLANS TO ADDRESS THIS.

The chart below reflects strong student proficiency in all but a few courses. Instructor comments explain the extent to which the assessment was a good measure of student performance and detailed changes they would make for student success.

Course	Term	% Proficient	Instructor comments
ART 281	FA 2019	85%	My assessment method was an accurate indicator of the students' ability to demonstrate the painting techniques at the end of the course
MUS 206	WI 2020	86%	My assessment method was accurate because the questions dealt with the concept addressed in the CLO.
ENG 213	SP 2020	47%	This is the first time I've taught the class and these texts. I think my expectations may have been higher than were reasonable given the student

			populace, which indicates that my measures may not be accurate. Additionally, many students admitted that they did not know what they were getting into when they signed up for the class - some thought it was a Latin American history course for the first few weeks. I don't know if I can accurately assess student performance when the students aren't prepared for the course.
PHL 204	SP 2020	86%	The discussion board response was an accurate indicator because it forced the students to sift through the various religions on a number of criteria and then to defend their "favorite" religion.
SPA 102	SP 2020	95%	The prompt questions provided to students covered the content covered the whole term. Students were also provided with a rubric that indicated how they would be evaluated. I was also available answering questions by emails. I specifically ask for videos as final projects and ask them to be as natural as possible. I open my final project two weeks before the end of the term so they are aware of what they are supposed to do. In addition, I talk to them about the purpose of the class and the outcomes expected by the end of the course and how they will be evaluated. I provide them with extra credit activities when I notice they need to review or reinforce content.
SPA 101M	FA 2018	85%	In my final project, students had to upload their video introducing themselves, talking about their family, physical and psychological characteristics, about their favorites in terms of colors, day of the week and season, at last, but not least describe their favorite food and what they like to eat either for breakfast, lunch or dinner.
SPA 101	FA 2018	92%	My assessment method was accurate because students demonstrated language skills in oral, and writing assessments (speech presentation)
MUS 206	WI 2019	80%	My assessment method of identifying songs by genre by having students listen to them was an accurate indicator because audio of the songs was included in the corresponding weekly content modules. Additionally, five of those songs were further highlighted in the textbook in labeled "Listening Guide" sections.
PHL 209	WI 2019	86%	I feel that the assessment methods I used were somewhat accurate as indicators of student's success. For the assignments, many students understood the issue at hand and were able to give recommendations. However, when it comes to ethics, it is somewhat subjective, so I am not sure that there is an appropriate type of indicator that will give a very accurate picture.

PHL 204	WI 2019	97%	My assessment method of a discussion board was an accurate indicator because I asked a critical thinking question and expected equally critical responses. So their grade was based on the quality of their response to the question and their interaction with others.
ART 131	SP 2019	64%	The quiz went along with what I taught.
PHL 209	WI 2018	90%	Yes, as [the assignment] synthesizes all the assignments learned throughout the term into a final case analysis.
SPA 103	SP 2018	97%	My assessment methods complete all expectations of the course learning outcomes, in both oral and written language.
PHL 204M	SP 2018	96%	Yes, I believe my assessment method of an exam was an accurate indicator because it surveyed the breadth of the material covered.

4A.I.2 DESCRIBE THE SPECIFIC PROCESS FOR ADVISORY COMMITTEES FOR REVIEWING COURSE CONTENT AND OUTCOMES GUIDES (CCOGS). IF THERE IS NO PROCESS, DESCRIBE PLANS TO ADDRESS THIS.

Since there are no Arts and Letters full time faculty, the lead is a Communication faculty, and that person works with the subject expert to make curriculum changes. CCOGs are reviewed during regularly schedule discipline meetings, and adjuncts are invited to attend.

4A.I.3 WHICH COURSES HAD LEARNING OUTCOMES REVISED/UPDATED AND WHY?

Learning outcomes in Arts and Letters remain relatively constant, and new courses use existing CCOGs from other colleges. In the near future, many of these courses will be made uniform statewide, and some work will undoubtedly need to be done. The following changes were made:

- English 206 was divided into two courses, so learning outcomes were revised
- English 275 was reactivated after many years, and the learning outcomes were revised to meet the current format
- ART 204 and 205, ENG 206, 212, and 254 were deactivated to provide streamlined options for students
- ENG 195, 202, and 216 were added to allow students options that transfer seamlessly

4A.II PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES (PLO)

Arts and Letters doesn't currently have program learning outcomes; however, next year we expect to embed PLOs from the Associates of Arts Oregon Transfer degree into every course.

4A.II.1 DESCRIBE EVIDENCE OF STUDENT PROFICIENCY IN PLOS. IF THERE IS NO EVIDENCE, DESCRIBE PLANS TO ADDRESS THIS.

Since the PLO work has not yet been done, we have no evidence. Once we embed the PLOs we will assess regularly.

4B. STUDENT SUCCESS

4B.I. DESCRIBE ENROLLMENT TRENDS AND PLANS TO ADDRESS THEM.

Arts and letters courses are required parts of every degree at KCC, so enrollment is driven by student need due to program requirements. Our primary plans to address them center on offering the courses and modalities that students are most interested and that transfer best. For example, enrollment in our face to face offerings for literature courses was very low, but DE was very high. We now offer only one face to face course during the year, but we offer DE options every term. We have a regular 2 year rotation of offerings that we update according to student demand.

4B.III.2 HAS THIS CHANGED OVER THE LAST FIVE YEARS? IF SO, WHY? WHAT ARE THE IMPACTS ON STUDENTS AND THE PROGRAM?

Yes, the OTM (Oregon Transfer Module) was approved recently, and it is expected to significantly increase the number of transfer credits accepted for our students. Additionally, we expect that more classes will be added as this work continues at the state level.

4C. STUDENT ENGAGEMENT AND SATISFACTION

4C.I. COURSE EVALUATIONS DATA AND ANALYSIS

See Appendices

4C.I.1 DESCRIBE CHANGES MADE IN INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS BASED ON STUDENT COURSE EVALUATION DATA. IF THIS HAS NOT OCCURRED, DESCRIBE PLANS TO ADDRESS THIS.

We do not specifically track data based on course evaluations, and faculty are responsible for being responsive to student needs. Doing so would be a large undertaking as we would need to survey faculty each term and track the changes they make. Often faculty need to gather input over more than one term, making this data even more difficult to track. The diversity of offerings and disciplines makes tracking for Arts and Letters an especially herculean task. If this information needs to be tracked, it will impact every course on campus.

4C.I.2 DESCRIBE CHANGES MADE TO THE COURSE BASED ON STUDENT COURSE EVALUATION DATA.

Data is not tracked at this time.

The General Education Arts and Letters (GAL) consistently has one of the highest CMAs in the college. This is attributable to two major factors. Most of the classes are taught online and those classes generally fill or are overloaded with 35+ students. Additionally, other than Communication faculty, all instructors are adjunct. All students are required to take at least one Arts and Letters course, and transfer programs require two. This program is on solid financial footing.

5B. SUMMARIZE PREVIOUS ANNUAL PROGRAM VIABILITY STUDY RESULTS AND EXPLAIN HOW CHANGES IMPACTED STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOME PROFICIENCY. IF THIS HAS NOT OCCURRED, DESCRIBE PLANS TO ADDRESS THIS.

Arts and Letters is a discipline and not a program, so no viability studies have been performed.

5C. EXPLAIN ANY BUDGETARY CHALLENGES AND ANY PLANS TO ADDRESS THEM.

There are no budgetary challenges for Arts and Letters, and the only additional funds needed are for an art lab, but ART instructors have been able to offer classes successfully.

6. CONCLUSION

6A. DESCRIBE PROGRAM STRENGTHS.

Arts and Letters' program strengths are consistently in the ability to provide quality college-level courses along a spectrum of disciplines that allow KCC students to broaden their knowledge and academic experience. Further, the caliber of instruction in these courses maintains the college's high standards for faculty and instruction. Arts & Letters faculty, whether full time or adjunct, meet or exceed assessment goals, and they work to revise and enhance course curriculum with the emphasis on student success, engagement and transferability of credits. Finally, the Arts & Letters faculty have been successful in re-conceptualizing face-to-face courses, transforming them into distance education courses so that students will have the same quality of instruction in the online setting. This began prior to pandemic and will continue because it provides more options for all students at KCC.

6B. DESCRIBE PROGRAM WEAKNESSES.

Arts and Letters program challenges center in the transitions in the program leadership over the last three years. Program leadership has changed more than once, so time has been needed for the new lead to learn all of the aspects of this multi-disciplinary program. In some cases, the program lead is not familiar with the nuances of all the disciplines. This can be overcome, in time, but there is a necessary orientation that needs to be allowed for and continuity in leads to be maintained. Additionally, Arts & Letters has over time gained and lost courses that responded to niche interests. As a result, the Arts & Letters course offerings require a reasoned evaluation whose goal is to hone the course offerings down to a solid diverse core of courses that continue to meet the needs of students, General Education, degree transfer, and KCC's Outcomes (ILO, PLO, CLO).

6C. DESCRIBE SUPPORT NEEDED.

Most of our courses are taught in a DE format with the exception of studio arts classes. These offerings fill every term, and they are popular with students. The current art space is insufficient, and for the past several budget cycles, requests have been made for a dedicated space. While some funds were allocated for a smart board and new stools, this falls short.

The Dean of Instruction and writing program lead are continuing to support the new Arts and Letters lead who is new to KCC. While the situation is not ideal, we are fortunate to have mentors with the appropriate background available.

6D. CREATE NEW GOALS AND LINK THEM TO THE STRATEGIC PLAN.

Goal 1: Assess and revise Arts & Letters offerings to articulate and establish a consistent core of offerings to improve General Education student learning and credit transferability. (Excellence)

Goal 2: Articulate the Cultural Competency learning outcomes of Arts & Letters offerings. (Access)
