Q. If I have a felony or other crimes on my record, can I still be a CNA?

A. Some crimes permanently disqualify individuals from HEA 100 course or caring for vulnerable clients, such as people with disabilities, children or elderly, to name a few. Other crimes can disqualify individuals from being in the HEA 100 course for several years. Students are required to pay for and submit fingerprints, as well as pay the processing fees to OSP for a criminal history background check before the beginning of the class. Second background check will be completed by OSBN prior to your state testing.

- If you have concerns please check the Criminal Background list of Potentially Disqualifying Crimes link on the KCC website.
- Students will also be required to submit a criminal background questionnaire and fingerprint to OSBN at the completion of the course.
- Prior to this process for HEA 100; it is advised the student visit The Department of Human Services, Administrative Service Division web site http://www.oregon.gov/DHS/admin/dwssrules/adopted/407_007_b.pdf for potentially disqualifying crimes and view the Criminal History Check Rules.
- You need to understand that if you have any criminal history and enroll in the course, you understand that you are assuming the following risks:
 - I will be withdrawn from the course if I fail to provide the information required for a criminal history check. I will also be liable for all tuition and fees for this course.
 - I may be withdrawn from the course because of a disqualifying criminal history or a failure to disclose any or all parts of such history. I will also be liable for all tuition and fees for this course.
 - Please see Student Services regarding the effect withdraws will have on your financial aid eligibility.

Q. If I have crimes or a felony, may I still take the HEA 100 course?

A. Yes, upon finding that none of your convictions are restricted by DHS or OSBN. To confirm this, please review the Disqualifying Crimes list within this website, OSBN and at DHS. Note: If you are found to have falsified and/or failed to disclose crimes or convictions, this will result with you being denied into the program. Please refer to the above question for further details.
